It provides an enterprise-wide approach to cybergovernance, regulatory change management, and quantification of financial and operational risk impact. Strategic decision-making in fast-changing environments requires a different approach. The SAP® Access Violation Management application by Greenlight streamlines your access-risk processes to cut governance costs. With the application, you can centralize your access-governance processes and perform exception-based monitoring. The software automates the identification of violations, reducing the need for manual segregation-of-duty oversight. With this expanded visibility, you empower management to take corrective action where the risk exceeds thresholds, helping them improve compliance and reduce fraud, errors, and omissions.

The software also quantifies your financial exposure to identity and access management risk to reveal the monetary impact those risks have on your business. By reducing manual activities and enabling the business to assess the financial exposure caused by business processes and user transactions, SAP Access Violation Management helps make compliance a by-product of good operational controls.

Greenlight's enterprise integration solution for the SAP Access Control application allows you to automate controls across all of your cloud and on-premise business applications, including SAP Ariba® solutions, SAP SuccessFactors® solutions, software from Workday Inc., and 100 more.
